works.

it in gold.

of only one day.

STATE ITEMS.

Erie is to have the Herdic coaches and will rebuild its burnt nickel plating

Work will shortly be stopped for nine days in the mines of the combined authra-

Adroit burglars, employing masks and chloroform, robbed Mr. Timothy Kere-sey's house in Altoona of $2,000, most of Dr. John Townley, a well known physician of Carbondale, was accidentally drowned by stepping from a plank crossing

J. H. Siewers, a retired lawyer of Mauch

Chunk, died at his residence there on Saturday evening, aged 69 years. His death was caused by pneumonia, after an illness

Charles Schaeffer, a young man about twenty-three years of age, a boiler maker

by trade, was fatally stabbed in the left breast by a puddler named Florian Gehringer, in a drunken row in Allentown.

The knife was a large dirk and struck one of the ribs, or death would have been in-

In Allentown at the American hotel, about ten o'clock at night, the three-year-old son of B. E. Jones, during the momentary absence of the mother, crawled out of bed, and in attempting to play with a clock on the mantelpiece, its clothes came in contact with a gas jet and the child was burned to death before assistance arrived.

A Scranton lawyer in anticipating an adversary's speech "hoped there might yet come some good thing out of Nazareth, for he'd never known any good to come out of it yet." This misapplication of Scripture reminded the Republican of an expression credited to Col. Wright in days gone by. Speaking of one on the other side of a case he was pleading, he said he

The Vote for Electors.

The official vote for each Republican and Democratic elector in Pennsylvania has been received. Of the Republicans

Mr. George de B. Keim received the highest vote, 444,731, and Edgar Pinchot received the lowest vote, 438,704. Mr. Pin-chot fell so far behind his ticket chiefly because 5,101 votes were east in Mercer county, for "Edward" (not Edgar) Pin-chot. But adding these 5,101 to his regu-

444.638 votes.

was " as dumb as Balaam's ass."

a reservoir. He was 65 years of age.

cite coal companies of Pennsylvania.

Lancaster Intelligencer. MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 22, 1880.

Only Did Not Do It.

The Philadelphia Times and Louisville Courier-Journal are manifesting a difference of opinion as to the effect on the Democratic fortune of the declaration in the Cincinnati platform in favor of " a tariff for revenue only." The editor of the Jrurnal, who was the chairman of the committeee, has been charged with the responsibility for the insertion of that word "only," which is credited by the Times and a good many people beside as a main cause of our undoing.

Mr. Watterson seems to deny the impeachment and to insist that he was not more responsible for the resolution as it stands than was any other member of the committee before which it was fully considered; and he very pertinently asks Col. McClure, of the Times, what reason he has to charge the Democratic defeat this year to the declaration in favor of a tariff for revenue only when the same appears in the platforms of 1876 and 1856, which were years of Democratic victory. That is a strong retort, which the Times does not find itself able to meet, though it declares, upon the question of the consideration that was given this resolution in the committee, that Mr. Cassidy, the Pennsylvania member, asserts that the word "only" was not in the platform when it was adopted. That would seem to be an interesting question for discussion between Messrs, Cassidy and Watterson, but is not of much consequence to the party, which eration.

that this resolution was the cause of our disaster is, we think, entirely untenaable; though the argment that the same declaration did not defeat us in other campaigns might have been fairly met with the assertion, which is true, that it was not handled against us then as vehemently and skilfully as in this. The fact is that the Republican party was in this campaign so very vulnerable the Democratic party invulnerable, especially in the matter of the candidates, that the Republican leaders were at their wits' end to find matter for fulmination against us. They could not assail our candidate with any hopefulness and were thus cut out of a large part of their customary ammunition. No one will forget how malignantly Mr. Tilden was assailed in 1876 and Mr. Buchanan in 1856. In their eager search this year for causes of attack against us, the buried issue of the tariff was resurrected; and tics, and manufacturers who had petitioned for the Eaton bill as a way of settling the controversy without partisan action, seemed yet to be acted upon by the tariff cry in this campaign as a bull is by a red flag; and there was not a Republican manufacturer who did not burn as hotly to defeat the Democracy as he could have done if he had really believed what he pre-cause it. The Republican managers, having the fact plainly before them that after carrying Indiana with similarly sustained energy. Their money was supplied by millions; and the millions did it. In New York they were assailing a Democratic fortress whose defenders were not thoroughly united and intent upon the common defence. The eternal vigilance which was the price of their preservation against an enemy so equipped was lacking. We need not charge anything to Democratic treachery; Democratic negligence and Republican money sufficiently account for the

THE grand jury which has just concluded its labors finds a lack of co-operation between the prison keeper and understrappers to be a cause of some deficiency in the discipline and management of our Lancaster county jail, prison, penand is not. Under the present sys- their engagements to deliver the sermon, three years by the people and the subordinates yearly by the inspectors. When the bull ring has the keeper and underkeepers both they get along amicably, each helping to hide the other's faults. When the hog ring board elect hog ring subordinates to a bull ring keeper it fail to understand on what grounds he seems that the responsibility and accountability are divided and it is difficult to fix the blame for what everybody seems to concede is flagrant mismanage-

The grand jury did not find out, or at least did not disclose to the public, why the manufacturing operations at the prison are carried on at a loss. We unin the cigar making department. The pects to have great success. other branches of industry can be carried on profitably, but the temptations to named for grand master of the I. O. O. F. fraud and the dangers of ill exercise of at the coming election and W. HAYES judgment in purchasing raw materials GRIER, of Columbia. for grand warden. and keeping stock on hand in this branch carried on in the prison at a loss.

The rather meagre information pre- Italian. sented by the grand jury, and the chances these quarterly visitations, strongly sug- | Garfield ticket. gests that such investigations can at Mr. Boycott's unpopularity will be in most be only superficial. What our creased not only with the peasants, but repeatedly to get her to marry him, which almshouse, hospitable and prison man- with his neighbors who are taxpayers, by she refused to do.

agement need are a thorough overhault the recent announcement that the whole ing, and inquiry by a commission of cost of the constabulary sent to his relief intelligent business men, to examine is to be charged to the county of Mayo. into their social, sanitary and financial condition, to furnish the public with nected with the Times, will this week as facts, and make suggestions for the reform of many abuses existing therein.

A "CHESTER" correspondent of the Press nominates John H. Landis for speaker of the next Pennsylvania House of Representatives. This is as it should be. Step up, John!

MINOR TOPICS.

THE latest new proposal in insurance is one to insure merchants against loss by bad debts, and emanates from England.

THERE arrived in the United States during October 61,312 immigrants and 5,905 citizens returning from abroad. Of this number Ireland furnishes 5,705, Germany 17,059 and China 474.

It is something that American citizenship is purer than is the ballot in England, but the extent to which the blot on our electoral system is spreading makes just cause for serious alarm. Great funds for election purposes are a menace to public virtue, and rich Christians who give checks to the Republican party as they do to the American board are assisting in debauching the ballot .- Springfield Republi-

THE debutante fever has attacked young ladies of San Francisco very strongly They learn the role of Juliet, or Julia, get their parents to buy them elegant dresses, pay an enormous price to some grasping manager for the privilege of using his has to take the platform as the conven- theatre for one night, clatter through tion sent it out, taking it upon trust their parts like parrots, get numberless from its committee and without consid- bouquets, plenty of applause from friends, kind silence from the newspapers, and are other than military organizations. The ground taken by the Times never beard of again.

> WE coddle voters too much. In place of public discussions of current issues, whereby men are educated to the conscientious discharge of political duties, drummers and hacks and money are now used to move men to the support of parties and candiates. A shiftless and venal class are being trained to sell themselves to the highest bidder, and corruption of the suffrage on a broad scale progresses in moral Massachusetts.-Springfield, Mass., Repub-

THE Washington Republic, after jubilating over Garfield's election, gives the following advice to the Republican Congress, blissfully ignoring the fact that most of the things proposed are what the Democrats were abused all through the campaign for contemplating : "We want definite and comprehensive steps taken toward the revival of American shipping. We nine of them. want a just revision of the tariff laws in the interests of both producer and consumer. so successfully that men who but a few We want a complete reform of the consular service. We want a satisfactory ad question should not be drawn into poli- justment of the federal election laws, the enlargement of the supreme court commensurate with the duty required of it, a piece of meat which he was trying to constitutional a aendment defining the swallow. powers of the respective houses of Congress in the choice of president in certain emergencies, and a liberal policy toward the seat of government and in all public improvements everywhere."

MRS. JOINER, the babies of whose sister tended to believe, that Hancock's elec- and niece have been stolen from the cemetion would ruin the business interests of | tery in Baltimore, asserts that on Monday the country. His party prejudice was night last she dreamed that she was at the too strong for his good sense. The tariff cemetery, just after a heavy rain, and saw issue was only his excuse for his partisan a number of foot-prints in the earth around favor; but it was just as efficatious as the graves. A group of men were disap- as an accessory. if it had got its potency from his reason | pearing in the distance, one of them having No doubt we suffered great damage in the body of her niece clasped in his arms. this way, but we do not conceive that to The men, she thought, placed the body in this cause can be attributed our defeat : a wagon and drove away. The next day for we were beaten in New York, and by she visited the cemetery, not for the pura deficiency in the expected and usual pose of verifying her dream, to which she has died at his home in the suburbs, aged majority of the free trade metropolis. attached no importance, but of placing 100 years, 4 months and 5 days. He was Thence certainly our defeat came and flowers upon the graves. While there she | born in England and had been here thirtythere must its cause be sought. Ob- found a scapulary that had been placed viously it was not there caused by a decla- upon the person of her nicce at the time ration in favor of tariff for revenue only. of burial. This recalled her dream and It is easy enough now to know what did she resolved to have the graves opened, When this had been done she discovered $150,000; insured for $150,000. that the bodies were gone. Mrs. Joiner is they must carry New York to win, put said by the Baltimore papers to be a thortheir effort and their money there, oughly excellent woman, of good social standing, and of unimpeached veracity.

> At the annual spree of the Yale alumni. in New York, the sermonizer humorously | Hancock, 114,652 : Weaver, 7,982 ; Dow, said that he filled the place because Sara 67; Phelps (anti-Masonic), 91. Garfield's Bernhardt and Archibald Forbes, the famous war correspondent now lecturing in New York, had failed to comply with their engagements to do the sermon. Forbes, being a Scotchman and only getting a joke into his head by a surgical operation, has taken the matter seriously and addressed this note to the Herald :

BREVOORT HOUSE, Nov. 20, 1880. To the Editor of the Herald : I observe in your impression of this morning, in the course of what is headed "A Merry Jubilee by the Yale Alumni Association," a synopsis of a "Thanks-giving Sermon," delivered by a Mr. Almet F. Jenks. In the course of this sermon that gentlemen, according to your report, referred to the "failure of Archiitentiary, or whatever it claims to be bald Forbes and Sara Bernhardt to fulfill tem the prison keeper is elected every which default made it necessary for the gentleman in question to deliver the sermon himself. So far as regards myself. I beg to state that I never made any engagement to deliver a sermon either to the Yale alumni association or to any other body whatsoever; and it is obvious, therefore, that I could not have made the 'failure" which Mr. Jenks insinuates. I > should have ventured the assertion. I am, &c. ARCH. FORBES. -Mr. Forbes, intensifies the humor of the situation by publishing a statement that the letter is a forgery. Next!

PERSONAL. Lord BEACONSFIELD does not expect the present ministry to last another year.

Mr. Inving, the actor, is rehearsing a derstand that they found the loss to be new play by Tennyson, in which he ex-R. E. Wright, jr., of Allentown, is

SALVINI intends to appear in this cou of industry are so great that it is only try with a company which will speak English while he will speak his own lines in

President CHADBOURNE, of Williams which the management of all our pub- college, runs behind six other presidential brothel, and then killed himself by put-

Mr. M. P. HANDY, long editorially consume the position of managing editor of the Press. The latter paper is to be congratulated. Mr. Handy is an accomplished joutnalist, and a gentleman. Sir ALEXANDER COCKBURN, lord chief justice of the queen's bench, died suddenly on Saturday night. He had heard a case at Westminster during the day. He walked home, ate dinner, and, apparently well, retired at half-past 11, when he was seized with a pain over the heart, and died almost immediately. He developed symptoms of fatty degeneration of the heart about eighteen months ago, but apparentently recovered. He had an attack of angina pectoris at the Spa during the past summer, and a fortnight ago, on his return home, had a similar attack, but the symptoms passed away. He resumed his official duties, and, except for shortness of breath, seemed fairly well up to the hour his death.

LATEST NEWS BY MAIL, The queen of Denmark is ill with Four men were killed and four injured by a boiler explosion in Wales.

The queen has prorogued Parliament until December 2. The demand for American securities has greatly increased in London during the past week

Cullom, Republican, for governor of Illinois, had 8,135 majority over both oppo-

William Carroll, aged 19, was killed at Troy, N. Y., on Saturday by a sand bank falling on him.

General Sherman is of the opinion that the army bands may play for hire for Sitting Bull is said to have announced that he has no intention of surrendering to the United States authorities.

In a drunken carousal in Russell county, a., Martha Lawson stabbed one Osborne twice in the breast, the wounds proving fatal in a few hours. Edward Nairn, a farmer of Napance, Ont., was found dead in his house. He is supposed to have been murdered by his The European ambassadors at Constantinople have agreed to exercise no further pressure upon the Porte relative to pending questious. The discussion upon the anti-Jewish question was begun in the Prassian Diet Saturday, and will be continued to mor-

A fast Southern mail train will leave Boston for New Orleans after the 28th inst., saving one business day from the usual time now used.

i he Apaches attacked a party of Mexicans on the 16th inst., on the road between El Paso and Chihuahua, and killed Jerry and Charles Williams, brothers, quarrelled in Louisville, Ky., when the former stabbed the latter to the heart, cilling him instantly. Sebastian Studer, eighty-nine years old, of No. 40 Bartlett street, Williamsburg, N. Y., was choked to death at supper by a ing in Brooklyn, attended early mass in the Sidney Place Catholic church yesterday morning, and dropped deadduring the Dr. Thomas Wood, a prominent surgeon of Cincinnati, O., died yesterday from the effects of blood poisoning, caused by attending with chapped hands to the wounded in a recent railroad accident. In a saloon affray at Highland Falls, N. Y., William Engelskircher shot and killed John Meahan. Engelskircher was arrested with his brother Jacob, charged

A. B. Meacham, the Uto commissioner, arrived in Denver on Saturday night and was arrested as accessory to the murder of Young Jackson, killed by Utes in Septem-

In Elgin, Ill., Rev. Daniel N. Dorsett A five-story building, occupied by Lord, Stoutenburgh & Co., wholesale druggists, Chicago, was burned. The loss on the building was $60,000, and on the stock Engineer Babcock was killed and firemin John Raridan was fatally injured by the wreck of a freight train near Burrow's Station, Ind., caused by a trackman failing to give warning of a broken rail. The official vote of Wisconsin for presidential electors was: Garfield, 144,396; majority, 21,603. Catharine Campbell, six months old, at No. 193 West Houston street, and Lillie E. Vaughan, six months old, at No. 6 Ninth avenue, New York, were suffocated overlaid" them. Walter Briggs, a well-to-do and respec-table citizen of Robertsville, N. J., doing business in New York, shot himself through the heart at his hotel Saturday night. He had made several suicidal at-

in bed yesterday by their mothers, who tempts before. On Saturday night John McGuire, a tramp, 65 years old, wandered into the vacant lot at No. 837 Seventh avenue, New York, and lay down to sleep in a ditch on a sheet of ice. He was found there yesterday morning frozen to death.

Nothing has been heard of those who were reported as missing from the insane asylum at St. Peter, Minn., and it is believed they all perished in the flames. This will make the number of dead thirty-

The Pacific hotel, in Deadwood, has been burned : the new Braintree cheese factory at Braintree, Mass., and John Campbell's house in California, were also destroyed, the latter perishing in the Henry Van Asbern kicked his wife to death in a drunken quarrel in New York. The murderer, who is a railroad employee, 32 years of age, has heretofore borne good character, but did not live happily with his wife. They had three children, and the unfortunate woman was in expectation of a fourth.

In Kankakee Ill., two children, aged four and seven years respectively, both girls, belonging to Edward Dangan, a stranger in town, died from poisoning, and his remaining two children are in a critical condition. Dangan has been living in the utmost poverty. A bottle containing belladonna was found in the house, and Dangan will be put under arrest.

and scriously wounded a courtesan at a tion of the altars.

THE DRAMA. Miss Maude Granger at the Opera House Only words of praise were heard from the audience that wended its way homeward from the opera house on Saturday evening after witnessing the performance of the drama of "Two Nights in Rome" by Miss Maude Granger and her excellent company; and it may be said in candor that the praise was as honestly won as it was freely given. Though the attendance was not so large as the merits of the entertainment demanded and the well-earned reputation of the actress ought to have ecured, it was a thoroughly appreciative satisfying performance within the walls of the opera house during the present season. The play of "Two Nights in Rome" is one abounding in thrilling situations, in which the absence of trap-door business and all that sort of thing, and the smoothness with which the thread of the story runs, are not more noteworthy than commendable. The plot of the tail hinges on a double marriage, the first of which is illegal, and its levelopement is wrought almost to the verge of improbability though it does not exceed the bounds of legitimate dramatic license, Antonia, a Corsicau adventuress. having won the gratitude of a young English artist by nursing him through a long illuess, the latter marries her. It does not take long for the young Englishman to discover the true character of the woman to whom he has allied himself. He learns that she married him thinking him to be rich, while he was in fact only a "younger son" of an English baronet wanting alike in wealth and position from which he was debarred by the rule of primogeniture. Not only this, but in a quarrel between the pair the woman exhibits to him a letter addressed to him months before during his illness, and which she had stolen and kept from him. It is from his fair young English sweetheart and in it she accepts the suit of the young artist and promises to marry him. The revelation falls like a thunderbolt on the betrayed victim; the failure of this letter to arrive had caused him to believe that his English love had rejected him on account of his poverty and induced him in consequence to wed the Corsican tigress. He upbraids his wife for her perfidy and lar vote he is still the lowest, 443,805. The next lowest is Nathan C. Elsbree with The Democratic elector receiving the highest vote was Robert E. Monaghan, of Chester, candidate for elector at large, who received 407,502 votes the lowest was John P. Linton, of Johnstown, with 407, 358 votes. But 73 votes were cast for John "B." Linton, which were intended for him and which would have made his vote 407,431. The next lowest was W. H. Playford, of Uniontown, candidate for elector at large with 407,363 votes.

A Railroad Rumor. It is announced that the P. R. R. Co. has offered to lease the P. W. & B. R. R. and its branches, and offered to guarantee 8 per cent. per annum, and that the latter company demanded 9 per cent. The reason given for making the offer was that the recent decision of the courts rendered it necessary for them to get control of this road if they wish to "head off" the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and prevent them from running their cars through to New

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

BISHOP SHANAHAN.

Patrick Smith, eighty-five years old, liv- A Cordial Welcome to the Distinguished Projeto at St. Mary's. The return of Rt. Rev. James F. Shanahan, bishop of the diocese of Harrisburg, after a pilgrimage of several months' duration to the holy see, has recently been noticed, and the royal welcome tendered him by the Catholic congregations of the state capital been duly reported. The right reverend bishop announced his intention of visiting St. Mary's congregation in this city yesterday for the purpose of imparting the papal benediction, and the good people of the church here determined upon greeting their beloved and honored prelate with a pleasant surprise. The bishop accompanied by Rev. Father Me-Bride, assistant pastor of the pro cathedral at Harrisburg, reached this city on day express at 4:35 yesterday afternoon and was received at the depot by a deputtation of twelve gentlemen, members of St. Mary's congregation, and escorted to the parsonage. Clemmens's City band had been engaged and were stationed without the parsonage, and on the bishop's arrival struck up the familiar air of "Home

At half-past five, the hour announced for the celebration of pontifical vespers, the large church was densely crowded. The bishop and his assistants, with all the local Catholic clergy, were escorted to the main entrance of the church by the band, and as they marched up the nave to the sanctuary passed between the ranks of little girls and young ladies of the Sodalities of the Angels and of the Infant Jesus, ranged along the aisle upon either side and wearing the veil and other insignia of the sodalities. After the bishop and attendant clergy had seated themselves in the sanctuary the members of the sodalities sang a very pretty song of wel-come, after which little Annie Doersom and two companions entered the sanctuary and the former addressed the reverend prelate in a neatly worded greeting on behalf of his faithful children here. At the conclusion of her address, which was delivered in a tone that was clearly heard all over the church, she presented Bishop Shanahan with a handsome horse shoe composed of white flowers and inscribed with the word "Welcome" in blue violets; the other little girls also presented floral

The bishop, evidently much affected by the reception tendered him, responded in fitting terms. He expressed his gratification at the manifestations of love and affection of which he was thus made the recipient; expressed his acknowledgment of the Divine favor that had happily spared him from the dangers of land and sea and prolonged his opportunities for labor in the Master's vineyard and for the propagation f religion and of the good works of the church, and said that during his absence he had been sustained and strengthened by a knowledge that the prayers of his people at home were being daily offered up for his safe keeping. He briefly re-counted his interview with the Pope, and said his holiness manifested a marked interest in the progress of religion in this portion of his spiritual domain, and desired to communicate through the speaker his blessing upon his children in this

At the close of the bishop's remarks pontifical vespers were celebrated the bishop officiating, assisted by Father Kaul, as deacon, and Father Hickey as master of ceremonies. The music was unusually finc, Fiske's vespers being sung, and the excellent choir of St. Mary's being assisted by a number of voices from St. Anthony's choir, and the organ accompani-

Bishop Shanahan looks extremely well was sprightly and engaging in her part of lic institutions have to "fix up" for electors in Massachusetts. He headed the ting a ball through his head. The woman after his sojourn abroad, and he received Lily Davenant, while the remainder of the is known as Birdie Donley, and formerly lived with the trumpeter, who came on two weeks ago, and has since then tried profitable trip, his safe return, and his pleasant and profitable trip, his safe return, and his tion that further distinction would be in-

U. S. Tobacco Jou: nal. and sympathetic assemblage, and save in The sudden desire to sell out now shown by a pecuniary view there has been no more the packers is due to the enormously cunning. declares his purpose to quit her presence for ever. She mocks him and exhibits her marriage certificate which she exultantly says will prevent him from ever securing possession of his English prize. As is developed in the course of the play this Corsican, beauty has another husband living, one Louis Benni-9@ 18c.: Total 4.350 cases. detti, who has taken against her the Corsican oath of the vendetta, which means an unrelenting pursuit on his part until he has killed her. He learns that she is married to the Englishman, and sends her the sacred warning, by which she knows that nothing remains between her life and his vengeance but instant flight. In a scene that is as powerful as it is picturesque the woman makes her escape at the instant her Corsican pursuer enters the house in his deadly quest. By a stratagem she causes it to appear that she has commit-ted suicide, her clothing being found lately he failed considerable and the anted suicide, her clothing being found lately he failed considerable and the anon the banks of the Tiber. This nouncement of his death was not unex-

than Antonia, who of course hadn't drowned herself at all. When the Corsican singer learns the identity of the consumed with envy and malice, and gaining a knowledge of the first quarrel that has occurred tween husband and wife, which has been young baronet, she resolves to widen the breach by mutilating the picture, which she does, in the expectation that Sir Gerald's suspicions will fall upon Erelyn, who had thoughtlessly uttered the threat that she would "see the picture destroyed" before she consented to a certain wish of invited to attend. her husband. In the rapid succession of same time her identity revealed despite next Thursday evening. the strenuous efforts of the Corsican herthe woman whom they believed to be the fast line on Friday. dead, and to whom the Eng-lishman believes himself legally married, is alive and before them. At the man, who she says will kill her if he finds her. They listen to her unmoved. pends so completely upon this woman's before the market opens. death, but who says she will protect her from the avenger. She conceals Antonia in an adjoining apartment, and when Bennidetti enters his keen sense perceiving an unaccountable agitation in the company, and at the same time detecting the familiar odor of Parma violets, which he knew to be the favorite flower of Antonia demands to know whence it proceeds. Ecelyn hastily explains to that she has the violets planted the next room. With an expression of deep disgust the Corsican urges her to tear them up by the roots and takes his leave. unconscious of the near presence of the woman whom he has sworn to kill. Breathless, Antonia emerges from her hiding, and overcome with gratitude at her deliverance falls at Ecclyn's feet and confesses that she is Bennidetti's wife, that her subsequent marriage with Gerald was therefore unlawful, and that in consequence Gerald and Evelyn are legally wed, and their offspring legitimate. The play here terminates. As will be seen it is full of absorbing interest. The characters are boldly drawn, that of Antonia being exceptionally striking and many of the situations powerful and picturesque. The obscurity that enshrouds the ultimate fate of Antonia might have been cleared up; as it is, the spectator is left in some doubt as geance The cast that produced the play was one of evenly balanced strength. Miss Granger played the role of Evelyn with artistic beauty; her emotional powers are of real depth and her rendition of the character left nohing to be desired. It is not detracting from the excellence of her performance, however, to say that the honors of the evening were fairly shared by Miss Adelaide Thornton, who in her mpersonation of Antonia, an exceptional creation, gave an almost perfect idea of being marked by a peculiar subtlety and ment being supplemented by several brass with tigrish ferocity. Mr. Lewis's Benni- self unable to walk, and the family beinstruments in the band. The services detti was admirable; he understands the came awakened by the stir. Medical aid were solemn and impressive, but at the art of acting without rant, and in voice was summoned and it was found that es-In St. Louis Michael H. Donley, recently same time of a joyous character in accord- and gesture gave an interpretation to the caping coal gas had pervaded their rooms. In St. Louis Michael H. Donley, recently trumpeter of company H. First United States cavalry, and honorably discharged at Fort Calvin, Washington territory, shot after the cocasion was the beautiful and elaborate floral ornamentation of the occurrence, but no more serious requiet vengeance than his hunted to a joyous character in accordance and gesture gave an interpretation to the part that left with the andience of his purpose of the occurrence, but no more serious requiet vengeance than his hunted sults are apprehended. victim possessed. Miss Katie Gilbert

TOBACCO The New York Market.

The market opened very spiritedly. The signs of relaxation in the demand for high prices on the part of the packers of '79 Pennsylvania, which have been apparent during several weeks past, took very solid form this week and in consequence a heavy business was transacted. It is significant that while 4,500 cases of this crop changed hands, but 700 cases were taken by eigar manufacturers; the bulk was taken by jobbers, who, at the comparatively low figures at which they obtained it, will no doubt do well with it. large crop of '80 Pennsylvania at present awaiting purchasers. There is not much doubt that this crop will be bought very low. While it is defective in many respects, particularly as regards the presence of numerous little holes in the leaf, it promises, as a whole, to become a useful and yielding material. When placed in the market at low figures, it will be taken hold of by manufacturers, as well as exporters, without much difficulty. Among the sales of '79 Pennsylvania of this week is one consisting of 2,000 cases, particulars of which are given elsewhere. The price has been kept private, but 164 and 17 cents is reported to have been the figure. The price of another lot of 1,500 cases that was sold is also kept strictly private. The prices of the balance are quoted at from 13 cents to not above 20

In other '79 crops very little seemingly was done. We say seemingly, as no transactions of any magnitude were reported. Those that found publicity were sales in small lots to manufacturers. Export remains at a standstill. We append a summary of the week's sales, all of which were of the '79 crop: Pennsylvania-4,500 cases, 13 to 20 cents

Connecticut-200 cases; 13 cents for econds: 15 to 22 cents running. Ohio-104 cases, private terms; market uotations are 8 to 111 cents.

State—80 cases (Big Flats) 17 cents. Havana-Market quiet ; sales 400 bales ; o change in prices.

Gans's Report. Sales of seed leaf tobacco, reported by S. Gans's Son & Co., tobacco brokers, Nos. 84 and 86 Wall street, New York, for the week ending November, 22, 1880 : 3,800 cases 1879 Pennsylvania, fillers 64@7c.; assorted 12@21c.; wrappers 18@40c.; 200 cases 1879 New England, seconds 12@13c.; wrappers 16@40c.; 200 cases 1879 Ohio, 8@12c.; 150 sundries,

MOUNT JOY MATTERS.

Obituary-Mount Joy Literary Society-Concert-Caw Killed-Tobacco

Mr. Gabriel Bear died at his residence n this borough on Friday afternoon about o'clock, after an illness of half a year. During this period he was quite sick, but in the early autumn he rallied sufficient to be able to be in the open air and his liberates her from the fear of Bennidetti's pected. The deceased was born in Chespursuing vengeance, and at the same time | ter county on the 24th day of February, sets the Englishman free to return to his 1814, and was sixty-six years old. At ing she was seen by Miss Lizzie Guss to first love. This is the state of affairs at an early age he learned the trade of enter the bath room, candle in hand, and the first fall of the curtain. A lapse of a miller and for a number of years to close the door and lock it. Miss Guss two years and eight months is supposed he was engaged at milling at Hammer to ensue, when the second night in Rome creek. In 1857 he came to Mount Joy and finds the Englishman, now become by the built the large steam flouring mill on Mardeath of his father and elder brother, Sir ket street, which he run until seven years Gerald Clinton, the husband of Ecclyn ago. He was a member of the Old Men-Aubrey, his English love. An opera nonite church and was prominently singer makes her appearance and is identified with the movement to procure engaged to assist at a musicale, to be given houses in the west for the Russian Men-

by Lady Clinton. This singer is none other | nonites, having been treasurer of the reception bureau, which duty took him to Kansas and Nebraska several times. He leaves a wife to mourn his loss, and there people who have employed her she are many now living who enjoyed his kind hospitality and munificence, who will sympathize with the bereaved and drop a tear to his cherished memory. The funeral services will be held in the U. B. church with regard to a favorite painting of the on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock whence his remains will be taken to the Donegal burying ground for interment.

Current News. Efforts will be made to reorganize the Mount Joy literary society at Groff's store next Monday evening. All interested are

An "olde folkes" concert will be given ncidents that here ensue the real perpe- in the M. E. church under the auspices of trator of the deed is discovered, and at the the Sunday-school connected therewith,

A cow belonging to Rev. Henry Engle, self to conceal it. Geraid and Evelyn are near the borough, strolled upon the track distracted with grief on learning that and was instantly killed by the engine of

As yet there has been but a small portion of the tobacco stripped, but the work will begin in earnest as soon as the tobacco this juncture the arrival of Bennidelti is can be made in a fit condition for handannounced. Autonia in affright begs of ling. Dealers have been through these the assembled company to save her from parts this week, but no sales haves been made. Reliable news reaches us of a Rapho farmer who refused twenty cents all except Ecelya, whose happiness de- for his wrappers. It will be some time

Close of the Rafting Season. The Marietta Times says: "On Thursday the last raft arrived in Marietta from up the river. A total of about seventy-five rafts arrived at Marietta and sold here, most of them being taken through to Port Deposit. One or two pine rafts sold as low as fifteen cents, but the majority brought twenty cents, and a few, brought 22 cents. Hemlock brought as high as eleven cents. although ten cents was the ruling price. Lumbermen have not done so well several years previous." The Register says: "On Monday the lash ings, or withes, of a large spar raft broke just as the raft was entering Turkey Hill, causing the spars to separate and run on the rocks below. Several of the crew managed to get on shore, while the rest had to remain on the spars in the river until boats were brought up from Peach Bottom. The boats did not arrive until 2 o'clock, so that those on the spars had a long wait.

"Two timber rafts, following after the spar raft, were also 'stove' by the closing of the course, which was not opened until the next day late in the evening. There were also a number of other rafts more or less injured at different points. Several struck in passing the Columbia chute, caused by the accumulation of cinto whether Bennidetti's suspicions have der at the bottom of it. A number of the been thoroughly allayed and whether his men from this place were thrown into the fugitive wife is free from his fatal ven- water by mishaps between here and Peach Bottom, and others narrowly escaped drowning while engaged in taking rafts off the rocks."

Almost Suffocated by Coni Gas. Misses Annie and Carrie Goll, aged respectively 19 and 16, and Master Will Goll, aged 11, children of John Goll, contractor, 549 North Queen street, were wellnigh suffocated by coal gas on Saturday night. During the night Will felt sick, arose and went to the bath room, where he was overcome by a feeling of dizziness what the character should be, her acting and fell heavily to the floor. His sister Carrie, hearing him fall, ran to his relief, finish that strikingly conveyed the author's conception of cat-like treachery combined in attempting to reach them, found her-

> Broke His Arm. Geo. Kuhns, residing at 222 West Walnut street, while walking on Chestnut stret on Saturday evening, fell and broke two bones of his right arm. Dr. A. J. Herr dressed the wound.

KILLING A DEAD HORSE.

Some of the Afterelaps of Politics On Saturday afternoon before Alderman McConomy was heard the suit of John B. Warfel, publisher of the New Era, vs. John A. Boring, late Republican candidate for mayor, to recover $46.50 for printing and advertising. It will be recollected that a fews days before the municipal election the New Era and Examiner printed a formidable list of names of "business men" who pledged themselves to vote for Boring for mayor. For printing these names the New Era charged Boring $46.50, which that gentleman refuses to pay on the ground that he never ordered the job nor gave any one clse authority to do so. For the plaintiff B. S. Shindle, clerk in the New Era office, testified that the list of names was taken to that office by Harry Ricksecker, who was acting as Boring's clerk, and ordered the publication in Bor ing's name. Mr. Warfel testified to the same effect. Alderman Spurrier, chairman of the Republican campaign committee, testified that his committee had never ordered the printing, or assumed the debt, or even solicited the "business men" to put their names to the circular endorsing Boring. On cross-examination Alderman Spurrier denied that he had ever received from Mr. Boring any funds for the payment of said printing, or that he had ever received from Mr. Boring in person any campaign contributions, for any purpose, nor had he any personal knowledge that Mr. Boring had made any contributions, though he supposed he had done so.

In defense Mr. Boring testified that the names of the Boring "business men were gathered by ex-District Attorney ohnson, City Treasurer Welchans, and a few other of his personal friends acting in conjunction with the campaign committee, and that he (Mr. Boring) had distinctly informed the committee that his personal contribution was to be used toward paying the printing and that the committee had misapplied the funds to other purposes. In answer to the question by Mr. Warfel, Mr. Boring admitted that after his defeat he had offered a note of $20 which he held against Walter Kieffer, reporter of the New Era, in payment of the bill, but this he did, not because he was responsible for the bill, but because he knew he would never get anything from Kieffer anyhow. There was a good deal of "chinning" between Boring and Spurrier, the former being indignant at the latter's denial that he had contributed to the campaign, and using severe language towards his "pre-tended friends;" while Spurrier responded by saying that he had spent a good deal of his own money during the canvass, that he was sorry for it, and wished he had it back again.

The alderman gave judgment for plaintiff for the full amount of the bill and costs, and the defendant gave notice that he would appeal the case to court.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Events Across the County Lines. Clara Guss, aged 20, daughter of Samuel

Guss, deceased liveryman of West Chester, was subject to epileptic fits, and at times was prostrated with them for hours. On Friday morning she was attacked with one of them, but soon after revived sufficiently to be able to perform her usual duties about the house. Saturday mornroom, and the unfortunate girl answered her clearly and distinctly. Soon afterward Miss Guss called to her again, but receiving no answer, hurried to the room and opened the door, when she found Clara ying in about tifteen inches of water in the bathtub, drowned while under an attack of epilepsy.

Dr. Charles Huston, senior partner of the firm of Huston, Penrose & Co., proprietors of the well-known Lukens iron works, of Coatesville, is recovering from his recent dangerous illness.

It is given out as a solemn fact that 100,000 pounds of oleomargarine are weekly produced at the works of the West Philadelphia abattoir. This is at the rate of 5,000,000 pounds per year. The best sustomers are the restaurants and hotels. Nathan Tyson, of Bay View, Cecil county, Md., has been held to answer for dosing his infant child to death with laudanum. The family lived in squalor and he had threatened to prevent further increase of his responsibilities. He strictly asserts his innocence. Eli S. Reinhold and I. Y. Sollenberger have purchased and will publish the Mahony Tribune. They are well-known in Jacob M. Zook, county commissioner of Chester county, and Commissioner Otley were in Oxford on Friday transacting some business for the county, and on starting for home Mr. Zook attempted to get into the carriage, the horse giving a sudden spring forward which threw Mr. . Zook to the ground with great force, fracturing his hip near the joint.

The foundry of the Wrightsville hardware company is now in successful operation, the first east having been made on Friday afternoon, and regularly each day

GIRD-IN-HAND ITEMS.

Tobacco Notes, Thanksgiving, &c. Since the election our little town has ettled down to its former quietness. The next thing looked forward to is Thanksgiving. The M. E. Sunday school intends holding a concert on Thanksgiving evening and a good time is expected.

Mine host, Peter Boffenmyer has treated his hotel (the Railroad house) to a coat of paint, which makes a great improvement in its looks. The tobacco farmers are busy stripping the weed and getting it ready for market; there are some line lots of the weed in the neighborhood, but the flea has done considerable damage; the buyers are looking around and buying up the best lots. The talk now is tobacco, fat hogs, steers

List of Unclaimed Letters. Following is a list of unclaimed letters emaining in the postoffice, at Lancaster, for the week ending Monday, November

Ladies' List: Miss Hannah L. Baxter. Miss Fannie Brubaker, Miss Lizzie Fisher, Mrs. Nellie Johnson, Miss D. Jackson, Mrs. Jane Kline, Mary L. Kautz, Mise Emma Lawrence, Miss Lucy Nelson, Mrs. Anna Patton, Miss Ada Simmons, Miss Mary

Spotz, Mary Eliza Strong, Miss Serena A. Gents' List: J. P. Adgney, Arthur Beam, Samuel Boades, Henry Brack, Daniel H. Bream, Alban Cutter, Aaron Hartman, Abraham Herr, Jacob Kirchhofer, Marty Kepperling, Frank Landis, August Mau (for.), Lee Morse, Ned Porter, Whitwer Reese, Benny Shank, Johannes Seuho, John Zimmers, M. R. Zell,

The Cause of It.

Persons living in the northeastern part of the city, were a good deal disgusted at their short water supply yesterday. The supply pipe at the First national bank broke on Friday night. To make this and other necessary repairs, water had to be shut off the Duke street stop, and in attempting to turn it on the bridle broke, necessitating further delay, all of which was relieved by 9 a. m. to-day, and the regular supply has been received since that hour. Delegate to Firemen's Convention. Geo. S. Landis has been elected by the Friendship fire company, of this city, a delegate to the firemen's convention to be held in Reading next month.